1. [REDACTED] telephoned to say that she had completed her examination of the need for a Harris press at the Photographic Intelligence Center and had concluded that the printing which PIC had in mind did not really need to be done at the Center. She also said that both the Printing Services Division and the Technical Services Division had the capacity to handle the PIC workload and that this was particularly significant since TSD would probably move their printing and reproduction equipment [REDACTED] eventually. [REDACTED] advised [REDACTED] of her recommendation and he agreed to drop the matter for the moment.
